

MARIA'S MISSION AND DESTINY:

TO POUR FORTH
THE LORD'S WORDS

Maria's Mission and Destiny: To Pour Forth the Lord's Words

Book 1, Compilation #07 of TCOB pubs on the subject, by theaudiokey.com team – April 2018

(Jesus speaking:) Blessings, treasures and riches piled high, one upon another, one upon another! Have I not promised that I would pour out such a blessing that you would not have room enough to contain it? Have I not poured forth abundantly and freely of My Words of life and love? I have given without measure. And I say unto you, My shepherdess, My queen, My faithful guardian of the Words, pour forth without measure! For there are many who are in need, there are many who are hungry, there are many who wait with great anticipation to drink from the hand of the shepherdess.

It is given unto you, My faithful shepherdess, to pour forth without restraint, without measure, without calculating or worrying for the burden of the many, many pages. Simply pour forth, knowing that in your much pouring, you will fulfill My will. It is your responsibility to pour forth, to encourage those of My fold to drink deeply of the waters of life, to impress upon them the importance of their spiritual feeding, because the time is short and the Enemy goes about as a roaring lion. My children must prepare and strengthen themselves through deep feeding of My Word.

I have given unto you, My shepherdess, the responsibility to pour forth, to give the clear sound of the trumpet to encourage deep feeding, frequent feeding, wholehearted feeding of My Word. The rest is up to them. Whether they take heed or not is up to them. Whether they obey or not is up to them. It is their choice. But it is your responsibility to give, to pour forth freely and abundantly without measure.

(Dad speaking:) Your main job, Honey, your most important job is to get out the Word. Pour out the Word the Lord is giving you as quickly as you possibly can. Take advantage of these days of peace and plenty and prosperity to pour forth with both hands. Don't hold back, because you don't know what the future holds, and the days will come--mark my word--that you won't be able to pour forth like you are now. Things will be much, much more difficult and will move much more slowly. Communications will be restricted, and then your children will be so thankful that you poured forth as a faithful shepherdess. So you and your team must work now while it is day, for the night comes, as the Lord promised, when no one will be able to work--at least not like you are now. These are the days of pouring forth. These are the days of giving with both hands, of feeding your flock from your giant bag of grain.

So feed the Family. Feed the sheep. Don't stop. Don't worry. Don't look back, but just keep pouring forth. Give and give and give--hand over fist--as quickly as you can! The Family needs it, they want it! Our children are hungry children, so give them their heart's desire. Pull out your breasts, Honey, and nurse them, feed them, let them suck of you and partake of your strength and spirit and all that the Lord is giving you. You're their mother, their shepherdess, their queen. They look to you and they want to be fed from you. They don't want to hear that you're slowing down or pulling back or withholding, because they find peace and contentment in knowing that you're pouring forth just as I poured forth, that nothing will stop you, nothing will dissuade you, nothing will distract you from your greatest ministry, which is pouring forth the Words of the Lord.

You are the keeper of the Words, the custodian of the Gold, the prophetess of the End, and your mission, your destiny is to pour forth, to be His vessel, to direct His Water of Life to the people. The sheep don't always know what they need, but the Shepherd knows what they need, and He is pouring forth just exactly what they need. Even if they don't see it now, they'll see it in the future. They'll recognize their need, and then they'll be so grateful. Then they'll know and be convinced that their queen was wise in her much pouring forth. Then the Words which they now find so difficult to understand and be fed from will become precious morsels of food that will sustain them. They'll find strength and light and power in their storehouses of the Word!

So keep going, Honey! Keep going! Keep going, keep pouring, keep giving, keep feeding, keep instructing, keep teaching. These are the days of pouring forth. These are the days of the flood of the Word! These are the days to fill the storehouses, to stockpile the spiritual weapons that will be needed in the days to come.

So redeem the time, Honey! Use these days of peace, these days when you can fully concentrate on the pubs, these days of plenty and prosperity when they can easily be distributed worldwide. Make the most of this time, for it will not always be like this. And when the dark storm clouds approach and you see the lightning and hear the thunder and you know that the End is almost upon you, you will be so thankful that you gave and poured forth and published the glad tidings without measure.

Greater things shall you do, Honey, than I did! You'll pour forth even more greatly than I did. Maybe not in exactly the same way, but even more greatly, because you're the great shepherdess of the End who pours forth to feed the sheep with both hands. So give and give and give again, Honey, and so fulfill your destiny! This is what Jesus created you for, to pour forth His Words. You're so beautiful, so faithful! I love how you love Jesus. I love how you love His Words. I know it is your heart's desire to pour forth, because you are the faithful shepherdess with the great big bag of grain feeding your sheep day and night. I love you, Honey, and I'm helping you to feed the sheep and get out the Word.

(Maria:) My dear Family, by God's grace, I'm going to do everything possible to obey the Lord's commission to me, to pour forth His Word to you as quickly as possible, using both hands, and my mouth and ears and eyes and everything I have, so we can fill the storehouses, and stockpile the spiritual weaponry, and be well prepared for the days ahead. (1)

When Withholding the Word

(Jesus speaking:) If you are like the tree that has decided to cut its sap off, and if you decide that you can bear fruit without the sap, without the life-giving flow of My Words and without using the instruction I have given you, your fruits will perish. The fruit that you now have on your branches will fall to the ground and wither and die. You as a tree will not last long either, and eventually you will have to be chopped down.

Please do not cut off the flow of the sap that I have been giving you so faithfully in abundance! You must cultivate your fruit and let the sap move out toward the branches that need to be strengthened.

I use this parallel so that you can be reminded of the importance of My Word, and the importance of not cutting the flow. (2)

(Jesus speaking:) I will continue to make you My spiritual nation that will shine as a beacon from the heights of the Earth. As always, throughout time I use My Word to separate the sheep from the goats, the weak from the strong. Only My strongest children can go where I am going at this time, to the front lines of the battle, to face the Devil head on in the days to come. As always, this is a Gideon's band of My children--those who are willing to be of no reputation, who are willing to be mocked and ridiculed by the secular world of their time. So be not fearful, My children; only follow Me and trust Me. I am able to protect you and to keep you and lead you into all righteousness and truth.

As I told the self-righteous Scribes and Pharisees of My day, "Except these praise and acknowledge Me, the very rocks would cry out!" So it is with My prophets and those who give My Words to My children; they're merely instruments in My hand to deliver My Word. And if they were to withhold My Word, then I would raise up others to send My Word forth to My children. Those who look to the queen and king as the originators or the distributors of these Words are looking in the flesh and not in the spirit. These are not their thoughts or words; they're My thoughts and My Words. (3)

- (1) The Days of Filling the Storehouses #3057:2,11,12,26-30,33-36
- (2) Shepherding Our Children and Young People! #3191:36-39
- (3) How to Love Me More, Part 2 #3283:15b-18