

An illustration of two muscular, winged figures, likely angels or warriors, standing side-by-side. They are holding a large, ornate golden torch that is engulfed in bright orange and yellow flames. The background is a dark, stormy sky with purple and blue hues, lightning bolts, and a bright light source behind the torch. The figures are wearing detailed, metallic-looking armor with intricate patterns and straps. The overall style is reminiscent of comic book art.

Guardians of the Flame

(Vision:) I see a huge, magnificent torch, and its fire is raging. The blaze is amazing. It reminds me a little of the Olympic torch--not the little one that they use as they transfer the flame from one runner to another, but the bigger cauldron that they light during the Olympic games. Now it seems like someone is gently pulling me back and I can see the full picture.

Thank You Jesus! This is outstanding! It's a huge torch and it has just been ignited. Two awesome-looking archangels are holding it up. They look like giants--they're way bigger than any human. They're huge, like tall buildings. They're standing side by side. Like the Statue of Liberty holds up a torch, these two magnificent archangels are jointly holding up this mammoth torch, but this is far greater and more magnificent than the Statue of Liberty.

They look like warrior angels, and they're almost standing at attention as they hold up this torch. They're rugged looking with long, flowing hair, very strong and powerful. Tremendous! There's nothing passive about them. They're very, very strong and their eyes are like fire. They have a breastplate on, they're wearing something like a loincloth, and they have a huge sword at their side in a sheath. On their feet are sandals that are laced up to the knee. They're holding the torch between them. Each one is holding the torch up with one hand, and in their other hand they're holding a set of keys--a set of gold keys that shine so brightly it's almost blinding.

The handle of the torch is golden and brilliant, and has a very intricate design on it. And the flame is so bright, it's a raging fire. It's all so powerful looking, very awesome, breathtaking! The sight of it is overwhelming.

(Jesus speaking:) Today I once again ignite to full power the torch of revolution of the children of David and Maria and Peter! Its flame will flicker no more, but will burn with the brilliance of My awesome strength, might and power. The Earth will feel its heat, the Heavens will never be the same, and the worlds beyond will see and will bow down before the power which My children will wield.

I have commissioned two mighty ones, chosen from among My most courageous archangels. These are known for their valor and fearless wielding of the sword of My Spirit. They hold the keys to the Kingdom that are given to the children of David in their hands--for the keys stand ready to be activated at any given moment, at the word of My brides. These also bear the torch that burns with the white-hot fires of revolution!

I have heard the prayers of My children, and the strength of these prayers have caused the torch to once again flare up, nearly out of control! It's a revolution! The cry resounds throughout Heaven and Earth!

The Selvegion are driven back, lethargy melts, Pan and Bacchus cower; they fear and tremble at the might and strength of the prayers of My children! They are singed by the heat of the flame, blinded by the power of the keys, and wounded by the thrust of the sword! These are no match for the fire that ignites My Endtime brides.

These two mighty archangels that you saw holding the flame are now bound to the children of David. They will stand guard day and night as guardians of the flame of revolution that burns brightly in the heart of each of My brides, those who have given their all to Me. These are bearers of the torch--bearers of the flame of the children of David.

This is the eternal flame of the revolution of the children of David. Today it once again burns brightly in full blaze! Its intricate handle bears the name of each of My brides who have committed their all to Me. I have personally carved each name in pure gold, that there may be no mistake who belongs to Me.

Let the fire of revolution burn deep in your hearts, My loves. Let it never go out. This torch will light your way. It will guide you through the troublous times as you keep it ablaze in your hearts forever. As the stream of My promises to you never runs dry, as My power is made available to you in the greatest measure ever witnessed on Earth, so this torch will burn, burn, burn--lighting your way, guiding you, protecting you, shielding you from all harm as you finish what I have begun on Earth, as you woo and win and see each of My Own safely back into My fold. (1)

(Jesus speaking:) I need you, My champions, (the second generation) to carry on the flame of revolution. Your parents and their generation, as the champions of their day, have run well and have carried the torch for their time, and now it's your turn.

This torch is of far greater importance than the Olympic flame that the world's champions carry as a symbol of strength, endurance, and hope; that is a mere shadow and symbol.

The torch in which burns the flame of My revolution is real, and it's priceless. In reality, it's the most prized element of your world. It's of far greater value than you can even begin to see and imagine. You already know that it's precious, that it's worth preserving, and that it's your role, your calling, your honor, and your duty to preserve and to carry the flame. Yet you don't fully realize how valuable it is and how essential it is to Me, to the Family, and to mankind, that this flame lives on. Nor do you yet fully realize what it requires to be one who carries that flame.

It's a flame that can only be carried by champions; others will not be able to bear up under the weight of it. They wouldn't be able to stand the heat of it. They would wither, wilt, and melt like wax before it. Anyone who tries to carry it who isn't well prepared and thoroughly trained won't be worthy or capable of this honor. They will fall and they will fail, unless they've been strengthened and trained to a spectacular degree.

You are those who are destined to carry this flame into the future. You are My champions, and as such, you must undergo the most intensive, focused, trying times of possible training.

It's not in vain. It's not even a test to see what you're made of. I know what you're made of. I know your heart. I know what's in you and I know what you're capable of. What I'm doing now is showing you what you're capable of--capable of with My Spirit and My power, that is, because of your own self you're not capable of being what I'm making you into.

You are destined not only to be soldiers, fighters, and warriors, but champions and winners. You are the ones who will carry the flame of revolution into the future. You are the ones who will make up the primary core of the structure of the Family of the future. You are the ones who will lead that Family into battle, into victory, into its destiny. I can't entrust this calling to children or mere youths. I need grown, mature, strong men and women of faith, those who have faced life's struggles and pain, and who have experienced the depths of sorrow and trial, who know what it means to ache, to suffer, to weep, and to despair.

You are destined to overcome the world, the Antichrist, and Satan himself. You are destined to shine as lights in the world's darkest days. You are destined to carry the fiery flame of truth and revolution until the world as you know it will end, and a new world is born. (2)

In the end it comes down to the Spirit. It's because of the Spirit of God moving and present in all of your lives through the Word that you take in and apply and live each day that you never have to worry about losing the fire and the Revolution because of the changes in modus operandi that you make.

You could be the best trained, most professional missionaries, but without the Word in your hearts and the flame of revolution, you'd be no better than a churchy Bible school. (3)
