PROPHECY VITAMINS

ON FORGIVENESS

Prophecy Vitamins on Forgiveness

Book 10, Compilation #04 of TCOB pubs on the subject, by theaudiokey.com team - August 2019

(All prophecies are Jesus speaking unless otherwise indicated.)

1. I am a God of love and mercy, and of forgiveness and longsuffering.
2. Love is saying you're sorry. Love is forgiving every day.
3. I am calling you to forgive those who've wronged you, and seek forgiveness of those you've wronged.
4. Forgiveness is the act that helps another's wrong to not become your wrong as well.
5. Through the keys of the Kingdom you can forgive anything.
6. Just because you make the decision to forgive, it doesn't mean that all the hurt is gone. But once you have decided that you will forgive, then you allow Me to work in your heart.
7. If you are able to forgive and renew a healthy relationship with those whom you feel have wronged you, this encourages Me and makes Me very happy.
8. Let every morning be a fresh start. As you forgive others and ask for the Lord's forgiveness yourself, He wipes the slate clean, and brings with each day a new beginning.
9. Learn to forgive and forget.
10. Forgive and forget as often as you need to. Even if you have to forgive the same person for the same blunders over and over again, do it. That's what I would do.
11. Have you forgiven all hurts and truly forgotten them?
12. One of the best birthday gifts you can give Me is to forgive someone who has wronged you.—Jesus
13. If you can't accept that there could be a silver lining to some of the rain clouds of your past, then you'll probably never fully forgive and forget about those things, and that can lead to bitterness, which is a severely crippling spiritual sin.
14. You can rest assured that even that which has happened that seemed difficult, painful, or harmful for those involved, can bring about good in their lives and the lives of those around them, if they will be humble, yielded, accepting, and forgiving. This is such a hard lesson for many, for it goes so contrary to the mind of man and carnal reasoning.

15. Everyone makes mistakes and has problems, and you'll need to learn to forgive and forget, accepting the fact that others have faults and failings and bad moments and bad days, just as you do.
16. If you make a mistake, ask My forgiveness (and the forgiveness of others, if appropriate), and then proceed in faith.
17. I have bestowed great, great love upon you, and you have this day felt My love and My forgiveness. So go forth in the same love and in the same forgiveness for others.
18. When the bond is close, then there will be an abundance of forgiveness, mercy, humility, and the ability to let love cover a multitude of sins.
19. "Love covers a multitude of sins." In this verse, love means forgiveness.
20. "Love suffereth long and is kind." That means when you've suffered, when others have maligned you and spoken ill of you, you're still kind and willing to forgive.
21. I love you and want to heal your wounds, and I want you to help heal others' wounds. There's healing for everyone, now and forever, through Me, and through humility, love, and forgiveness.
22. Who is a just man or woman among you who does not fall? And yet I will pick them up time and time again. Will you therefore do less and not open your arms of forgiveness.
23. (Dad speaking:) I know it's hard on your pride to ask for forgiveness if you've been guilty of being critical and negative to your co-worker, but it's sure worth it.
24. (Jesus speaking:) Freedom to love and communicate and share your heart and forgive is all part of the freedom of the spirit.
25. I ask you now to humble yourselves and to receive their apologies, their repentance, and to forgive them for anything that they've done to hurt you. Reach out your arms, admit to them that you've also made mistakes, that you're not perfect. Accept them, love them.
26. It's never too late to say "I'm sorry" or to forgive.

27. (Dad speaking:) You need to understand that everyone makes mistakes. I dare say you've made a number yourself, no matter who you are, and you need to remember that you'll be forgiven for your sins and mistakes the way you forgive others for their sins and mistakes.
28. (Jesus speaking:) My way is the humble way, the yielding way, the trusting way. There are those who say, "He has done evil, but let us not be like him by seeking to harm him as he harmed us." These are those who follow My way, who have partaken of My spirit of forgiveness, and who will find happiness.
29. Make it a habit to ask for forgiveness. If you've made a mistake or blown it in some way, even if it was a very minor "sin," confess and ask for forgiveness. Or even if you're unsure if you made a mistake or not, and don't know if you're in the wrong or not, ask for forgiveness nevertheless. It never hurts to take the humble seat, and often defuses situations and eradicates any possibility of disunity taking root.
30. There is power in forgiveness, and do you know why that is? It's for the simple reason that forgiveness is divine! When you forgive, you have tapped into My divine power, and you have opened yourself up to My perspective, which allows you to share My power. When you forgive, you are a better person. You are someone after My heart, for My heart always forgives.
31. All have failed in some way; all have been hurt or suffered loss in one way or another in this war. But all that needs to be set behind by every member of this army. Just as the rains of cleansing and healing in the Gap vision purged away the filth and soot, so the rains of forgiveness and oneness in Me must purge away the filth and ashes of past mistakes, failures, and wrongs. This is the healing that can now give each person the power to finish the battle.
32. Ask for the humility to realize that you've made your fair share of mistakes as well, and that I haven't given up on you because of it. Ask Me for a key-powered boost of love to help you look at and treat others the way you want to be looked at and treated--fairly and lovingly and with eyes of faith, seeing the potential and the growth and progress. Ask Me to help you realize the dangers and consequences of not forgiving and loving and moving forward.
33. Forgiveness is a key to victory! Without it, you can't make the progress that you wish to make in these Endtime days. You must have a forgiving heart, and this must come from Me. I give My children forgiving hearts by allowing them to err and be forgiven so that they may learn the art of forgiving others.
To forgive takes not only humility, but exercise. It's a muscle, like many other spiritual muscles, that must be exercised. Practice the art of forgiving, and then see My love pour through you more.

34. If you've wronged someone or said something sharp or unfeeling, instead of waiting for the other person to come up to you, you should be the first one to ask them for forgiveness. You should go to the one you've wronged in humility and meekness, even though it's hard on your pride. If you try to do this as often as possible, you'll receive more and more of My humility and love. Even if you think the other person has wronged you, take the humble seat and ask for forgiveness for anything you may have done to offend, even if you don't see what you could have possibly done.
35. I'm not excusing anyone for being unloving, or for breaking the rules and doing things that were ungodly or uncalled for. They will receive their just deserts, you don't have to worry about that. But for those of you who were on the receiving end of unloving and wrong behavior or treatment, you have to ask Me to help you see the good, to help you draw from it what good you can. If that is expecting too much, then a good first step is to ask Me to help you forgive, to put it in the past, and to go on for Me.
36. Forgiveness, at its core, is not about what someone did to you; neither do the issues of why, how, when or where need to have any bearing on it. Forgiveness is about Me and you. It's about Me having the power to heal and restore your spirit, and you making the choice to use the healing agent that I make available to you. Forgiveness is for you. Forgiveness is the potion that restores a wounded and broken heart, spirit, and even body. There are other spiritual and emotional supplements that can help one whose life has been harmed by the wrong or evil of another; but there is no substitute for forgiveness, and there is nothing else that brings that same level of absolute spiritual cleansing and healing into a life.
37. My love is without end. It is boundless, and I do not turn My back upon those who repent. My Family must likewise forgive. They must understand that it is never too late for people to repent, to change, to undo the damage that they have done. Though they may have to suffer for their mistakes, yet they are never too late for My forgiveness. If they do not outright reject it, they are never too late. My Family must be more understanding, more loving. They must be willing to forgive those who fall, those who are weaker, even those who hurt others because of wrong decisions that they make, but who then have a great repentance once they see the error of their ways. Even more so, they must forgive all those who commit small faults and errors, not out of malice, but out of the sinfulness of man's heart.
38. Those who are forgiven much love much. One to whom the greater debt has been forgiven and relieved, has the greater love and appreciation. But you must know the heart before you can extend such mercy time and time again, and the only way you can truly know the heart is by asking Me to reveal to you the things hidden from outward appearance. How oft shall you forgive your brother or sister? Seventy times 7 times in a day, if they turn again and ask.

Sometimes they will not ask if they don't feel that there will be forgiveness. They feel, "What's the point? Why should I confess and ask forgiveness and admit my fault if I won't be forgiven and will only get in trouble? If I will be labeled and never be able to overcome that label, then why bother to humble myself before these who will not forgive me anyway?" They must be convinced of your love for them and your willingness to forgive and forget and start anew.

39. All things work together for good to them that love Me, who are called according to My purpose. Why do you think that verse is there to begin with? It's because bad things happen! Bad things happen, but I work even those bad things together for good to those who love Me, and to those who are called according to My purpose. There are no exceptions to this. All things work together for good. It doesn't matter where the bad things came from, who "did" them to you, or why they were caused, they can and will work together for good because you are My children whom I love. But you do have to do your part--you have to let go of the past; you have to be willing to forgive; you have to be willing to let go.
40. Forgiveness is the ultimate antidote to the poison of loss, harm, sin and sorrow. Drink it fully, even though it looks like the most bitter of cures. It will end your pain more quickly than anything else, and those who drink this healing potion will find their wounds healing, and their life and joy returning much faster than those who go without it. In fact, without forgiveness there is no healing. For your own sake I implore you not to deny yourself another instant. You have suffered enough, you have lost enough, and there has been enough pain. Take forgiveness, give forgiveness, and let Me heal you.
41. The essence of forgiveness is a reflection of My love. If someone is accepting of My love, then that love will easily flow out to others. That person will find it easier to forgive. If someone has been shutting out My love for them--either through condemnation or not feeling worthy enough to receive it--then they will find it difficult to forgive. This is why the Enemy is so strong on condemnation and making people feel unworthy of Me, because he knows that My love within them yields strength, understanding, and forgiveness. My love within a person's soul will yield love in return.
42. The next time you feel pain from something that was done to you, I want you to grab ahold of it, and in your mind's eye, watch yourself give it to Me. You may need to mentally do this action a few times, but however long it takes, learn how to give it to Me. I will take this pain and use it to make you into someone who is sweeter and better and who can understand beyond the pain. I can fill your heart with an understanding that overrides your hurt.
- You have a choice. You can either let your pain make you sink further into an abyss of despair and hurt, or you can let Me bring you up to higher ground where you can learn how to let go, heal, and receive a deeper understanding that can only be produced through these hurts.

Won't you let Me use your pain to transform you into something more beautiful and stronger, and have it release to your life riches of wisdom that would have otherwise been unknown to you?

43. If you're having a hard time forgiving someone for something, even if it was just a little inconsiderate comment or an unloving deed, or something they said about you that you didn't like, bring it to Me and ask Me to remove the burden. If you need to talk with the person to straighten things out, come to Me first to clear your head of any emotional reaction you might have or negative feelings about the situation, so that you can resolve things nicely and the forgiveness that you need will be pure and from Me.

Whenever possible, avoid making any mention of the negative happening or hurt to someone else, as that will reinforce the negative in your mind, and if said in the wrong spirit or to the wrong person, can also be gossip. Forgive and forget--or if you can't forget immediately, at least don't talk about it to anyone else. Putting it into words will only plant it more firmly in your memory and make it harder for you to get over it.

44. You feel hurt because of what someone did to you, and you think that no one could truly understand what you've been through. But I understand, My love, for I was with you through the experience. "Why didn't You do anything about it then?" you ask. I cannot protect you from all wrong, for I have given mankind free will. But My love, understanding, and compassion are always there for those who need it. I saw what you had to go through and I understand the way it has hurt you. I am not past understanding, because I lived on Earth and had to go through what you are going through now.

Will you accept My love? Will you let Me wash your heart and free you from the imprisonment of resentment and anger, and any pain that comes from not letting go? I wish to help you to move on and to find love and forgiveness through acceptance. I will do this by showing you how much I love you and that I am there for you no matter what. Will you let Me show you? Please open your heart and let My love and light come in. It may mean that you will need to become happy and forget what was done to you, but that's part of the reward of accepting My love deep in your heart. Won't you give it a try?

45. True forgiveness has nothing to do with fairness, justice, or righteousness. It is a matter of love--divine love. The love that empowered Me to come to Earth, to suffer and die for you, to grant the forgiveness of sins--all sins--is the same love that can empower you to forgive.

Forgiveness has creative power. Forgiveness can change the life of the forgiver, as well as the one being forgiven. That has been demonstrated in a hundred classic accounts.

When one is given the gift of forgiveness, it often has the effect of an undefeatable weapon--a laser beam that pierces the shield that nothing else could--for it is proof of unconditional, supernatural love. In some cases it is enough to bring a person to the place of acceptance of My love and salvation.

The power to change lives could in itself be seen as a strong reason for a Christian to forgive--because it's possible that your forgiveness will be what is needed to bring a person to salvation, to eternal life, to a knowledge of My love, to a complete change in life. And if the person you are forgiving already knows Me, it could lead to a complete change of life and attitude.

The creative and changing power of forgiveness can come to life in a number of situations, from the moderate to the extreme. Forgiveness from a captive could change the life of a persecutor or torturer. Forgiveness from a spouse or significant other to a party who has caused emotional harm can completely change the attitude and behavior of that party. And there are any number of situations in between where forgiveness--being a part of the miracle of love and salvation--can completely change a life, a person, and as a result, change other people or situations.

46. I know it is difficult to understand the full depth of forgiveness, especially when you're dealing with forgiveness of such heinous sins as murder. It's hard for the carnal mind to fully comprehend, and it's not always easy for human hearts, feelings, and emotions to forgive. I understand this, because My carnal mind and My human heart had to pass the forgiveness test as well.

My faith was greatly tested at Gethsemane, where I made the final decision to follow through and die for you, to take the sins of the world on My shoulders. I could have run. I could have escaped before the guards arrived. But I passed that test and won that victory, only to face another great test.

Next I faced Golgotha, where I had to make one of the most difficult decisions of My life, to forgive My Own murderers. I was still in human flesh, still subject to human thoughts, feelings, and emotions. I was tempted to curse those who nailed Me to the cross, and to instead yield to revenge. My flesh was tempted to get even. I wanted to call down armies from Heaven to wipe out the whole lot of those who mocked and persecuted Me and cast lots at My feet. I had the power within Me to do so. I was tempted, but I didn't give in to the temptation. I called out to My Father in desperation, and His voice spoke so clearly to My heart and said, "My Son, You must forgive."

I was torn between wanting to handle it My Own way or do as My Father willed. But when I heard His voice speak so clearly to My heart, I chose to forgive. It was at that very moment that peace flooded My heart and I received the power to forgive. First I had to choose, then the power was given Me.

I forgave the criminal who hung beside Me. I promised that he would be with Me in Paradise. I asked My Father to forgive those who put Me to death, as I also forgave them. I forgave My Own murderers, just as I forgive others who commit such crimes. This was My mission on Earth--to not only bring you My love and save you from your sins, but to teach you to forgive. 48

47. Take a minute and think about forgiveness. What is its purpose? One of the main benefits of forgiving others is that it helps the one who is doing the forgiving to let go of their own anger, bitterness, and resentment. This is healing. Another benefit, as My Word clearly teaches, is that you cannot receive forgiveness yourself unless you forgive. And another benefit, and one which is most often overlooked and is one of the fundamental purposes of forgiveness, is that forgiveness equals redemption. When I forgive you your sins, I am also redeeming you from the clutches of Satan. When the Scribes and Pharisees brought the woman who was caught in the act of adultery before Me, I did not condemn her. I forgave her, and with that forgiveness I also gave her a command to go and not sin again. There was a purpose for that woman's life, and as I forgave her, that purpose was regained. Those who are forgiven much, love much. And this great love moves them to accomplish a great deal for Me. Naturally, all of this ties in with repentance. There are countless examples in the Bible and throughout history of how those who were forgiven went on to accomplish a great work for Me. It was after Moses killed the Egyptian that he went on to lead My people. David and Saul (Paul) were both responsible for taking the lives of others. Yet I forgave, and they were transformed and mightily used of Me to bring many to righteousness. Many missionaries have set out to evangelize savage people, those who have committed horrendous crimes, and have won converts who, when redeemed, became strong witnesses for Me. To forgive is divine love, and through forgiveness I redeem My Own. I rescue them from darkness so that they can accomplish My will.

48. Start today, this minute, by looking at your world and those around you with kindness and treating them with forgiveness. Often the best way to show forgiveness and put it into action is to start with something small: like a smile instead of a grim look on your face; a kind word in place of embittered remarks; or an unexpected kiss when your mind ponders retaliation. These are the things that I love to see you do, when you rise above your human nature and turn error into love and goodwill. I know you will fail at times, and there will be days when mistakes happen. But then you will see mercy, because of the mercy you have shown. And you can look at it as giving to Me, because though I'm not present on Earth in the flesh, "Inasmuch as you have done it to one of the least of these, My brethren, you have done it to Me" (Matthew 25:40) Give Me the gift of forgiveness. Forgive someone who has wronged you, whether intentionally or unintentionally. Whether the wound runs deep in your heart or it is a smaller scratch, Christmas is a wonderful time of year to make things right. And making things right often starts with you taking the step to forgive someone, even if you feel that person is the one who should be seeking forgiveness. Has someone said or done something that has hurt you? Forgive him. Are you harboring bitterness in your heart toward someone? Forgive him.

Forgiveness is a beautiful gift, and one that I treasure very much. You can picture yourself coming before Me with a gift in your hand. Maybe it costs you a lot to take the step to forgive, and when it does, the gift is even more precious to Me. Tell Me you want to give Me something that's on your heart, and then tell Me what the situation is, and tell Me that you forgive this person or persons. I will take this gift, carefully unwrap it, and hold it with tender care. I will then take My hands, place them on your heart, and heal the hurt that you feel, making the forgiveness complete.
